RE: Title Alert 2010-09 Check Fraud Scam

Penn Attorneys has been alerted to a revival of an old scam: The settlement agent receives a check from a "purchaser" representing funds for a closing. Often the check is for nearly the full amount of the purchase. The buyer sends funds well ahead of closing and then will call to say s/he/it has canceled the transaction in the hopes that the closing attorney/title company will send the buyer's escrow money (in the form of a wire) before it is discovered that the check for the deposit is bogus and no money has been credited to the escrow account.

There appears to be a number of attempts by the same individual(s) to perpetrate this scheme across the country. A buyer (who is conveniently out of the country) has a check drawn on a Canadian bank sent to a closing attorney/title company for the stated purpose of purchasing a property. He states that, in his absence, his primary contact is a financial advisor in Canada. The check and instructions look bona fide but are counterfeit. The perpetrator generally contacts a legitimate realtor who sends the check to the closing attorney/title company to deposit the funds in anticipation of a closing. In all cases, no one ever has the opportunity to see the would-be purchaser.

Attached is a sample of the check and instructions that were provided to one of First American's South Carolina agents who was able to spot the fraud and alert their South Carolina state office. There have also been reports of very similar attempts in Ohio.

Please be alert to any funding situation that seems questionable and if in doubt, contact Josie Lubiejewski or Tracy Chipoletti.
